Dear Owen,

RE: Structural Timber Innovation Company (STIC) fabrication license

Congratulations on becoming a STIC fabricator licensee.

Please treat this as your STIC fabrication license.

Your Fabricator License Number is FANZ0001. In due course you will also receive login details for the new EXPAN website where you will be able to access in electronic format all of STIC's EXPAN design guides and best practice documents as they become available.

As a new licensee you will also receive a free hard copy of each design guide as they become available. You will also be able to purchase additional hard copies if you require them. Please note that all design guides and other relevant STIC documents are only supplied to authorised licensees of the EXPAN system and may only be used by them during the term of their license.

We hope that your new STIC license is an effective new tool for adding value to your business in the future.

Should you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me on 03 3642987 Ext 8961

Yours sincerely

Robert Finch

CEO, Structural Timber Innovation Company Ltd.
